

“Anngwyn St. Just is one of the truly original and innovative thinkers in the field of traumatology and human relationships.”

(Peter Levine, PhD)

HEALING COLLECTIVE TRAUMAS RE-CONCILIATION & COLLECTIVE GOODWILL DUNA DIALOGUES

2017. JÚNIUS 3.

BUDAPEST, DOWNTOWN

INDIVIDUAL & COLLECTIVE TRAUMA - A Systemic Perspective

While we often speak of trauma in the individual nervous system, or even in the family system, less attention is paid to what might be called the greater forces which shape individual lives, families and other larger systems. Our integrative healing work experience will explore an ongoing, resonant and co-creative relationship between somatically oriented trauma methods and systemic constellation work offered by Anngwyn St Just, traumatologist as well as the HEART dialogues.

Duna dialogues are an aspect of WISDOMWEAVING, an international project of Ariadne Gaia Foundation & SoL Hungary and partners and patron organizations.

“Anngwyn St. Just is one of the truly original and innovative thinkers in the field of traumatology and human relationships.”

(Peter Levine, PhD)

We are to offer new windows of opportunity for a deeper understanding of our collective human condition, along with expanded options for healing broken connections and resolving hidden entanglements that may lead to traumatic repetitions throughout time and space.

Anngwyn St. Just is a systemically oriented social traumatologist who holds advanced degrees from The Western Institute for Social Research and the University of California in Berkeley. She is also a cultural historian, psychotherapist and somatic educator who specializes in developing multimodal cross cultural methods based upon easily transmitted concepts for trauma education and recovery. Currently the director of The Arizona Center for Social Trauma and ACST International, she has also served as advisor to the Drug and Alcohol Studies Program at the University of California at Berkeley. Anngwyn St. Just has travelled widely in North and South America, Europe and Russia teaching innovative ways of healing individual and social trauma.

Agota E. Ruzsa is a systemic facilitator working with mindful dialogues, AoH and systemic constellation. HEART is a healing journey in a collective space. Hosting & Healing Empathic, Affective Spaces for Transformation. This approach is an integration of constellation, bohmean dialogues, mindful presence, co-presencing and catharsis based inner work enhanced by systemic awareness, historic interconnections and perspectives held in collective trauma sites.

Duna dialogues are an aspect of WISDOMWEAVING, an international project of Ariadne Gaia Foundation & SoL Hungary and partners and patron organizations.

